PREMIUM LIST IS COMPLETED NOW
Poultry Department of First State Fair Issues Bulletin Showing Twice as Many Prizes as Last Year.
The poultry department of the First State fair, through Superintendent John Ruch, has issued a complete list of the special prizes offered at the big exposition this fall. The list is very large, more than double that of last year, and will total well over $1,000 in value. The bulletins are being mailed to interested people everywhere, and Mr. Ruch said this morning that birds from all over the United States would be on exhibition at the show this fall. He expects at least twice as many as last year.
Persons desiring to obtain a bulletin giving the rules and regulations of the show, or any other information regarding the show or the fair, should apply to Secretary John R. McManis.

Workers are now engaged in placing the fixtures in the new federal court room on the third floor of the federal building and within a few days everything will be complete as far as the equipment of the place is concerned for holding United States court within its walls for the first time on September 18. The court room is not overly large, but at the same time is of sufficient dimensions to insure against crowding. The room is to be used by the court in its ordinary sessions, and the equipment for the presiding judge, the jury box, being arranged with a view of giving jurors rest and comfort while hearing the testimony of witnesses and the arguments of attorneys. The desks and chairs for the members of the bar are also comfortable and convenient. The court room is so arranged that attorneys will have but little difficulty in making their voices carry to extreme ends of the room. There will be no necessity to shout at full strength as is sometimes the case in the Metropolitan court room. In the federal court room attorneys may indulge in fancy gestures to their hearts' content with the assurance that their arguments will reach court, jurymen and spectators.

ELITE MANDOLIN CLUB TO RESUME PLAYING
Organization Which Made Music On Many Occasions Last Year to Play Again This Season.
Those of Albuquerque's music lovers who heard the Elite Mandolin club play last year will be delighted to hear that it will be reorganized in a few days to play this winter. Prof. Charles Huehl will again direct the club. The organization made quite a name for itself in musical circles last season, and with the benefit of a year's experience should go far this season.

POSTOFFICE BANK READY FRIDAY TO TAKE THE MONEY
Federal Savings Institution to Begin Operations on August 25; Who Will Be First Depositor?
"We will be all ready to receive deposits in the Federal Savings Bank beginning Friday morning, August 25," said Postmaster H. W. Hopkins today. "There has been some misunderstanding as to the date for the opening of the bank, August 25 is the day set by Postmaster General Hitchcock for opening and we will be all ready to take the money."
Because of the many excellent features of the government bank, it is likely that it will become a popular institution in Albuquerque. The bank is designed to accommodate people who have never patronized banks, encouraging to save those who have never made a practice of saving.
Several small boys have already declared that they are going to be the first to deposit in the new bank and there will doubtless be a string of people in front of the bank window in the federal building, ground floor, on next Friday morning.
Trinidad Torres was given a 30-day jail sentence this morning in Justice of the Peace George R. Craig's court for drunkenness. Torres is said to be a habitual drunkard, having been in police court several times recently on charges of drunkenness. The Tompkins case was continued until tomorrow morning on account of the absence of several witnesses. Tompkins is charged with creating a disturbance in one of the Central avenue saloons.

Passengers on the westbound Santa Fe Limited this morning probably were not aware that the train was carrying postoffice supplies worth many thousands of dollars. Ten big boxes of stamped envelopes of various denominations were in the mail car. While they were transferred from the main line to the Coast Lines car here, a number of special officers were unobtrusively present. The envelopes were packed in 10,000 in a lot, and were registered to the postmaster at Los Angeles.
